BOX INSPIRATION #11

Site Office Containers

Welcome to the 11th issue of Box Inspiration, your weekly dose of fresh container conversion ideas. This week we are talking about site office containers.

The very design of containers make them perfect not only for secure storage but also for safe and secure site office units. Our container offices are perfect for construction and building sites, on the roadside, or as additional and temporary work space. We can place partitions inside of the container to create separate areas, and can offer extra heaters, power points and lighting where you need them. View some of our site office case studies below.
