

BOX INSPIRATION #5

Container Staircases

Welcome to the fifth issue of Box Inspiration, your weekly dose of fresh container conversion ideas. This week we show you how staircases can help transform your container buildings.

When containers are stacked, and access is required on all levels, container staircases can be fabricated and installed to provide safe access. These staircases are used with multi-storey conversions such as offices, homes and exhibition stands. Available in a wide range of styles, sizes and colours, our staircases can be fabricated to meet your specific needs.

Last year we built a bespoke recording studio for a major sports event, and the staircase was the real engineering feat. A custom built staircase was fabricated and installed with landings which served the first and second floor and helped to support the cantilever section. The staircase, landings and walkways were of all steel construction and powder coated to match the containers.
